Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 2/12/2007 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

2. Claims 1, 9, 13 and 19 have been amended and claims 24 and 25 are new. Claims 1-5, 7-22, 24 and 25 are currently active. The previous anticipatory rejection of claim 2 in view of Lovell has been withdrawn due to the claim's amendment to limit the substrate to woven articles.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Applicant recites the limitation "wherein the paint mixture further comprises" in claim 7. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Examiner believes that Applicant intends claim 7 to be dependent from claim 5 and has interpreted the claim as such.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as based on a disclosure, which is not enabling. The hydrophilic coating having a low electric resistivity, which is critical or essential to the practice of the invention, but included in the claim(s) is not enabled by the disclosure. See In re Mayhew, 527 F.2d 1229, 188 USPQ 356 (CCPA 1976).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1, 3-5, 6-12, 14-17, 19-22, 24 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lovell (US 5,629,073).

a. Lovell teaches a coated substrate comprising a coating composition and a substrate (pg.1 col.2 lines 6-7). The coated substrate can have a flexible material of cotton. The canvas limitation of claims 3 and 4 are anticipated without further structural limitations for said limitation. The coating composition is about 20-30 and even up to 80 weight percent latex, about 5 to about 50 weight percent dry ingredients, and about 20-30 and as little as 5 to as much as 70 weight percent water (pg.4 col.7 lines 1-7). The coating is a latex and water paint mixture (pg.3 col.5 lines 13-14) comprising surfactants in about 0.1% by weight (pg. 4 col.7 line 34), fillers and extenders (pg.3 col.5 lines 19), defoaming agents in small amounts of up to 0.5% (pg.3 col.6 line 54), dispersing agents (pg.3 col.5 line 54), and pigments such as calcium carbonate and talc (pg.3 col.6 lines 18-21). The extenders can be talc, in about 1 percent by weight (pg.3 col.6 lines 19-20). The aqueous latex paint dispersion, which is hydrophilic, may comprise polyvinyl alcohol or polyvinylpyrrolidone (pg.3 col.5 lines 33-59). From Applicant's specified amounts, the following percentages were calculated: 100-200 parts by weight latex, 57-48.5% by weight; 0-5 parts pigment dispersant, 0-1.2%; 0-2 parts defoamer, 0-0.49%; 75-100 parts pigment and filler, 43-24.3%; 0-50 parts extender, 0-12.1%; 0-5 parts surfactant, 0-1.2%, 0-50 parts water, 0-12.1%. Thus, claims 1, 3-12, 14-17, and 19-22 are anticipated. The new limitation of claim, which requires the coating to be hydrophilic, is provided by the Lovell reference because the latex coating is aqueous and is therefore inherently hydrophilic remains so after drying.

b. Examiner notes that amended claim 9 and new claim 24 utilize the term “consisting essentially of”. For the purposes of searching for and applying prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102 and 103, absent a clear indication in the specification or claims of what the basic and novel characteristics actually are, “consisting essentially of” will be construed as equivalent to “comprising.” See, e.g., PPG, 156 F.3d at 1355, 48 USPQ2d at 1355.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 2, 13 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lovell (US 5,629,073).

a. Lovell fails to teach the use of woven substrates, but does teach that the substrate can be any one of a variety of pliable and fabric-like textile products including those intended for use as garments, wall coverings, floor coverings or the like (col. 3, lines 3-10). This teaching encompasses woven substrates and the utilities stated are well known to employ woven materials as substrates and based on that, the selection of woven would be immediately obvious to one of skill in the art.

b. The features of Lovell have been set forth above. Lovell is silent about the specific amount of pigment dispersant, the amount of calcium carbonate included in the paint mixture, and the amount of the water-soluble polymer, which is mixed with the paint mixture. Lovell also fails to teach that the coating comprises a defoamer of 0.3 percent by weight, a surfactant of 0.63 percent by weight, and talc (as the extender) of 6.3 percent by weight of the total paint composition. However, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to select the desired percentages through the process of routine experimentation in order to arrive at values, which offered the optimum composition in the invention of Lovell. Thus, claims 13 and 18 are rejected.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed 2/12/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

8. Applicant argues that in light of the amended claims the previously applied rejections are moot. Examiner disagrees and has set forth his interpretation of the applied art and rejections supra.
